Police reassure residents 'we are cracking down on m-cycle nuisance'

POLICE have issued assurances they are cracking down on motorcycle and quadbike nuisance on the borough's footpaths.

Locals have been frustrated by young males who continually use the paths to ride the machines and have reported their concerns to West Lancashire MP, Rosie Cooper.

Residents in Skelmersdale, in particular, claim the menace has escalated in the last 24 months, ironically since a barrier was put in place at Abbystead to try and stop the yobs in their tracks.

Ms Cooper, said: "I have recently had a meeting with Chief Inspector Abbott at Lancashire Constabulary who assured me that the police are committed to dealing with ASB motorcycle nuisance and understand the harm it can have on the community."

"The police have recently seized a number of motorcycles used in this way and will continue to target individuals who cause nuisance and ASB with motorcycle and quadbike use."

"The police urge residents to continue to send any information about this antisocial behaviour to oprider@lancashire.pnn.police.uk or call 101, as this helps the police to target individuals and work out where the most common areas are for these offenders."

"The police can only do the job properly with help and information from local residents," she added.

Teenage girl grabbed by man on way to school

A 14-YEAR-OLD schoolgirl on her way to school in Skelmersdale was grabbed by a man who offered her sweets.

The incident happened on a path between Eskdale and Southway near to a wooded area at about 8.30am on Friday, June 25.

The girl managed to wriggle free and run home and the police were called.

She is physically unharmed, although police believe it must have been an "extremely traumatic incident" for her and she is being supported by specially trained officers.

The offender was described as a man, about 5ft 9ins, wearing all black clothing, including a hoodie with the hood pulled over his head and black Air Force trainers.

An investigation is under-way and police are appealing for witnesses or anyone with CCTV or dashcam footage.

Detective Insp Vicky Cain, of South CID, said: "This must have been an extremely traumatic incident for this young girl and she is now being supported by specially trained officers."

"We have launched an investigation and we have a team of detectives who are following a number of lines of enquiry.

"I appreciate the concern that this incident may have caused in the area and I would reassure people that we are doing all we can to identify and apprehend the offender."

"We have extra police out and about in the area and I would encourage anyone with information or concerns to speak to an officer."

Anyone with information should contact police on 101.

THE JOURNEY OF A LIFETIME!

YOUNGSTERS budding to be the next Brian Cox are being offered the 'journey of a lifetime' when the north west's first Science Summer School opens at West Lancashire College on July 6.

Physicist and well known TV personality, Professor Cox, will be the star attraction at the Science Summer School when he is due to make a 'virtual appearance' at the college to host the event - and share his vision that "Britain is the best place to do science."

The initiative co-founded by Professor Cox and Lord Andrew Mawson aims to inspire the next generation of Britain's scientists and engineers. Lord Mawson, executive chair, Well North Enterprises commented:

Report by Henry James

"Just as science has enabled us to reach Mars and start to explore the surface, we begin a journey here on Earth led by Professor Brian Cox and joined by our many forward-thinking partners to make Skelmersdale a place where the extraordinary can happen through science and engineering."

"We welcome aboard all our young participants and their teachers for the journey of a lifetime."

MP backs memorial wall campaign letter

Calls for London site to become a permanent place to pay respects to those lost to Covid

Report by Henry James

A GROUP of 227 MPs, including West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper, peers and mayors have written to the Prime Minister urging him to support the campaign for the Covid Memorial Wall in London to become a permanent site.

The letter is spearheaded by MP Afzal Khan who lost his mum and both his parents-in-law to coronavirus and has been working with Covid-19 Bereaved Families for Justice on securing the future of the wall.

The wall, with its endless line of hand-drawn red hearts, has engulfed the wall opposite Parliament since March as bereaved families visited the site to add messages for their loved ones.

It has become a place for people to come together, to reflect on the tragedy and to begin to heal.

The letter states: "Given the

poignancy of this site, the need to give grieving families a place to mourn their loved ones, and your previous commitment to a national Covid memorial, we, the undersigned, support calls to make this wall of hearts a permanent memorial to the victims of the pandemic."

Among the signatories of this letter are more than 160 MPs from across the House of Commons as well as numerous members of the House of Lords.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper commented: "This site of remembrance, developed and created by bereaved families, is a powerful reminder of the human cost of the pandemic. Many of my West Lancashire constituents, like thousands across the country, have suffered immense loss during this past year.

"My thoughts are with all those grieving loved ones and with our healthcare staff who have worked tirelessly to save so many lives.

"I'm proud to support this campaign to secure the future of the Covid Memorial Wall and I will continue to work with bereaved families to ensure that their voices and wishes are heard."

Fire-hit primary school pupils to be taught at university!

EDGE Hill University has stepped in to provide alternative education accommodation for pupils from Asmall Primary School, in Ormskirk, for the rest of the school term.

Asmall Primary School, located on Tennyson Drive, remains closed due to a recent fire at the school, which affected a significant part of the building.

Michelle Speak, headteacher of Asmall Primary School, said: "This awful fire has devastated our school. I am so grateful to Edge Hill University for stepping in and allowing us to use their campus.

"As well as being located close to our school, the university can also accommodate all of our children, including the nursery, so that they can all remain together.

"Our children will also have access to amazing facilities including a sports hall, a forest school, and designated outdoor spaces.

"This arrangement also means that our children will have experience of life on a university campus, which will hopefully inspire them for the future. We are going to have an exciting adventure and we hope that our children will have many happy memories of their time at Edge Hill University."

Dr Jane Moore, Edge Hill's Dean of Faculty of Education, said: "Education is so important and we know that schools have already been impacted enough during the pandemic, so when we heard about the fire at Asmall Primary we wanted to give something back to our community.

"We have been able to make a building available for the exclusive use of the pupils, so that they can stay together, and each class will have their own room, just like they had at school. We're proud that our own students who are currently on teaching training courses, have volunteered to help out with this new arrangement and provide additional support, which will develop their own skills as well as benefit the pupils.

"As a University rooted in community spirit, I'm heartened that we have been able to turn a potential disaster into what will be a positive experience for the children who will have their eyes opened to higher education."

There has been overwhelming support from the local community who have rallied around in response to the fire and already thousands of pounds have been raised by a GoFundMe online fundraiser, and by donation points being set up.

Headteacher Michelle Speak added: "I would also like to acknowledge the fantastic support that we have received from our local community. It really is incredibly heartwarming and overwhelming.

"Huge efforts have been made to raise money for us, as well as to provide us with lots of resources. Thank you to local schools who have provided us with furniture and equipment at such short notice. Special thanks go to the staff and children at Delphside Primary, who had a fundraising day this week and donated £750!

"The county council has also been marvellous in the way they supported us at the time of the fire and in everything they are providing and putting in place since. A huge thank you to everyone who is rallying round to help us on behalf of myself, the school staff, parents and governors."

Parents are being kept fully informed of all developments and have been extremely supportive of the school.

Kerry Smith, who has two children at Asmall Primary School, said: "The outpouring of support from the local community within hours of the fire starting has been overwhelming, we as parents can't thank everyone enough.

"I have two girls at Asmall Primary School, the teachers are all fantastic and we couldn't wish for a better Headteacher in Mrs. Speak, she has worked tirelessly since the fire, arranging the move and keeping us all up to date on progress daily.

"I work at Edge Hill University, when I heard that they had offered their support I couldn't be prouder to work there and couldn't wish for a better venue for our children. They will have an amazing adventure and what a great lesson this has been for our children - this whole experience will teach them how a negative can be turned very quickly into a positive."

Lancashire County Council is continuing to work closely with the school to provide necessary support. Plans are currently being developed for the start of the new term in September.

An investigation into the cause of the fire is ongoing by Lancashire Constabulary and Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service.

Women's Refuge founder honoured on charity walk

A CHARITY walk took place on Saturday, June 19 for Eleanor Maddocks MBE, who founded the West Lancashire Women's Refuge and who died in 2019.

Family, friends, local councillors and people she helped through the years completed the walk to raise money for a memorial bench to be situated in Ruff Lane Gardens, Ormskirk. The memory walk started at Nye Bevan swimming baths, Skelmersdale and finished at the Clock Tower in the centre of Ormskirk.

Susie Levens and Amanda Etienne, Eleanor's daughters, who live in Australia, had their own t-shirts made and took part in their own charity walk Down Under.

Eleanor's granddaughters, Sarah Larsen, who lives in Cheltenham, was involved in her own 10k run on the same day.

Eleanor's granddaughter, Antonia Maddocks said: "Over 30 years ago, one woman stood up against the odds and created a service, which over time, evolved into multiple services across West Lancashire to help women and children victim of domestic violence.

"That woman was Eleanor Maddocks; wife, mother, grandmother and great grandmother. Chances are, if you or someone you know has experienced domestic violence of any sort and used a service within West Lancashire, it would have been because of this great woman you were able to do that.

"Due to family grief then Covid, we have been unable to celebrate her life and the all amazing work she provided until now. The local councillors came together and arranged a memory walk, which the whole family are supporting in aid of Eleanor and to raise funds for a memory bench to be situated in Ruff Lane Gardens outside the cricketers in Ormskirk.

"This is the same place Eleanor planted a tree for the refuge she created all those years ago. It will be a place the family and all the women and children she helped over the years can go to remember her.

"Eleanor herself was victim of domestic violence, living in Kirkby with her first husband and six young children, suffering at his hands for years until she finally plucked up the courage to leave with nothing but the clothes on their backs.

"Rescued by family and moving to Skelmersdale, it is there she realised there was virtually no help or support for women like her and something she needed to try to do something about. Eleanor campaigned to raise awareness, held meetings with the council where she was able to persuade them to change their policies to help with funding for services and in 1985, Skelmersdale and District Women's Refuge was created, which later changed its name to West Lancashire Women's Refuge.

"Over the years Eleanor campaigned tirelessly while working multiple jobs to provide for her family, to be able to provide a safe place for women and children to go as she did not want another woman or child to feel like they had nowhere to turn to, like she did all those years ago.

"The charity grew and grew and still runs today providing emergency accommodation, counselling, outreach work, a drop in centre and recovery programmes, to name a few.

"She won multiple awards over the years with the highest awarded in 2019 where she received an MBE from HRH Prince William at Buckingham Palace for all her charitable work for victims of domestic violence."

The fundraiser has already raised more than £1,000. For more information visit <https://is.gd/Z1e1Es>

Police 'keen to show a high visible presence' in Aughton after anti-social behaviour

FOLLOWING reports made of an increase in the amount of anti-social behaviour in Aughton, West Lancashire neighbourhood policing team want to update the community, following a successful parish meeting.

Ormskirk Police has been 'keen to show a high visible presence' in the area to tackle the issue and has had dedicated resources tasked to the area, including response officers and special constabulary over the last three weeks.

The Champion had reported how gangs of youths had been terrorising residents in Aughton with reports of them using drugs, damaging cars and intimidating shoppers. Groups of up to 50 teenagers aged between 14-16 had been 'causing havoc' in the village with Aughton Parish Council demanding that police take action to stop the problem.

Chief Inspector Chris Abbott said: "We want to thank all those who attended the parish meeting and for their feedback. From information received from the community, the majority of young people who gather in Aughton are residents, whose families reside in the area. "We have also identified a few individuals from out of the area, all of which have been visited with their parents and appropriate action taken. "We have outlined the benefits of diversionary activities and shared experience as to the success of the community working together and as such are keen to work with all partners to come up with a solution."

The police has said that keeping the community safe remains a priority in Aughton and while patrols will remain ongoing, they will also continue to respond to other areas of West Lancashire 'dependent on risk and threat.'

Over the next few weeks, the mobile neighbourhood police van will be in Aughton giving people the opportunity to come and talk to the team.

CI Abbott added: "We understand some members of the community are frustrated with the current issues, but please come and speak directly to us and give us some feedback.

"Dates and times will be advertised on our social media pages."

Members of the public can also sign up online to Lancashire Talking stay-intheknow.co.uk/lancshiretalking and complete the survey to help provide a multi-partnership approach going forward.

Bickerstaffe pupils catching up with a member of the community

School pupils reach out to friends in the community

PUPILS at Bickerstaffe C.E School have reached out to members of the community who they have not been able to see because of the pandemic.

The school has always been at the centre of its community, and it prides itself on the well-established links that have been nurtured and developed over the past 175 years. These have included Treat Day, the weekly Knit and Knatter club or monthly Holy Communion Services.

Before the pandemic hit, weekly visitors from the community were a regular occurrence in school, with residents coming in to share their favourite story, discuss their youth during World War II or pass on their impressive knitting skills. This all changed in March last year.

Due to the vulnerable nature of the local community and the national lockdowns, friendships that had grown were cut short.

Recently children in Year 5 approached their headteacher about reaching out to their friends to let them know that they are still here and looking forward to seeing them again.

The children organised for each class to make personalised cards and a small group of pupils and staff visited the local residents in Bickerstaffe village with a yellow rose and a huge smile, excited to see their pals once again.

One local resident commented: "Seeing the children once again has brightened my day."

The children were especially thrilled when they were rewarded with ice creams.

Headteacher Kirstin O'Kane said: "I've been very touched by the thoughtfulness of our pupils. It has been an extremely hard year for everyone, but our children continue to be kind, compassionate citizens who are determined to nurture friendships.

"We have truly missed our local community and the knowledge they have to offer us and can't wait until we can once again welcome them back into school, hopefully, in the near future."

Organisers of Cricket Festival are bowled over with support

TARLETON Cricket Club are holding their first ever Women's Softball Cricket Festival.

It will take place at the Carr Lane venue on Sunday, July 4 from 12.30pm until 5pm.

They have 16 women's teams and five under 15 teams booked onto the event making it the largest active participation women's sporting event in the North West this year with 200 women playing on the day.

This is an opportunity at giving cricket a go. Soft Ball Cricket aims to be a fun, fast and social game for all abilities. All equipment is provided. There is no previous experience required. There is prizes to be won and booking is recommended.

There will be a BBQ, bar, entertainment, stalls and more.

Organiser Damian Owen said: "Two years ago I set up a women and girls section at Tarleton Cricket Club where I play, and we started as they all do playing eight a side softball at village fete like venues with eight teams having a day's tournament.

"This sport used to get the term 'Pro-secco cricket' as the women usually finished with some fizz. The women and girls cricket section is the fastest growing sport in the UK with numbers increasing by three fold in Lancashire alone in the time we have set up.

"Women's Cricket ticks the mental health box, and the sport for all agenda which at times seems to be headline catching rather than development of substance.

"So, we would like to engage with local radio, local TV and local online presence. "June has been labelled the month for women's sport, surely July and beyond has merit too.

"Even in these Covid times we have sustained matches every Sunday, and train every Friday 6-8pm even in the winter!"

For more information about Women's Softball Cricket and to book contact Damian Owen on 07900373572.

Cllr hits out at authority's £19m underspend while cutting services

By Henry James

LABOUR'S Skelmersdale North Borough Councillor Neil Furey has hit out at Lancashire County Council's £19 million budget underspend for 2020/21.

Councillor Furey said the announcement on the underspend comes at a time the authority is cutting services and 'neglecting services in places like Skelmersdale'.

He commented: "I expect Council Tax payers will be concerned to learn that Lancashire County Council has failed to spend some £19 million of its budget for 2020/21.

"Year after year the Conservative controlled Lancashire County Council has imposed inflation busting Council Tax increases on every household in the County. While at the same time cutting services and neglecting services in places like Skelmersdale.

"Here in Skelmersdale our Highways and infrastructure is in a chronic state of disrepair. Due to years of cuts and lack of investment our road surfaces are falling apart and road signage is either in disrepair or missing.

"While its prudent for the Council to remain within its budget I am shocked that some £19 million has been left unspent. If Lancashire County Council really has £19 million left over they should urgently commit some of those funds to Skelmersdale and set about improving our neglected Highways."

Deputy leader of Lancashire County Council, Conservative Councillor Alan Vincent, responded: "The County Council and its staff were fighting the pandemic during 2020 and into 2021, and like every other Council had massively different calls on its finances that were not predicted or possible to predict.

"To present that as a failure disrespects those staff."

Councillor Neil Furey

Cinema to reopen after upgrade

CONCOURSE bosses have acted to reassure shoppers after the Skelmersdale's shopping centre's new cinema closed recently and added the attraction will reopen on July 3.

The cinema, which was the first in the town for 39 years, opened earlier this year promising to show a "classic line-up of films."

However, after it shut its doors recently, the Champion asked London Cambridge Properties, which manages the Concourse Shopping Centre, for an explanation following calls from residents.

A spokesman for LCP said: "We have been informed by the operator that it had closed the cinema temporarily for the installation of high-speed internet, which is needed for the new projectors. Both screens have also been upgraded from stereo to full DOLBY.

"As these upgrades take place, the operator has told us it has renamed the venue Capitol Cinemas in time for its reopening on Saturday, July 3, when it will show: Cruella; Tom And Jerry; Mortal Kombat; and Raya And The Last Dragon."

At the time of the opening of the 'Ultra Star cinema' it was explained as there were no new films being issued, the operator would use the first few weeks as a 'soft launch' and show films from the past 40 years (the last time Skem had a cinema).

Actor secures lead role in new film set on city's Home Front during World War Two

by Henry James

A FEATURE film set on the Liverpool Home Front during World War Two stars a young actor from Ormskirk in a lead role.

Former Ormskirk School pupil, Joseph Stanley, 22, plays Patrick O'Connor, a principal character in Enemy of the Heart written by Claryn Scott.

Joseph is no stranger to portraying lead roles having embarked on his first major screen venture as Chad in the six-part drama, Ringside currently screening on Amazon Prime.

Just days after completing Enemy of the Heart, Joseph secured a principal role in the highly-anticipated three-part docu-drama, Liverpool Narcos soon to be launching on Sky Documentaries with Joseph's episode airing on June 10.

For Enemy of the Heart, more than 600 applicants auditioned, with Joseph being cast as 21-year-old police officer Patrick, the nephew of Italian businessman, Gio Cipriani (Mattia Paradiso) living in Britain during the outbreak of war. The film focusses on Patrick's Irish-Italian family whose life is thrown into turmoil when Mussolini joins forces with Hitler to attack the country they've come to call home.

Mr. Cipriani is taken by police from the family home at midnight, interned as an Enemy Alien and sent aboard the S.S. Arandora Star destined for Canada. The ship was torpedoed by a German U boat on July 2, 1940, just two days after it set sail from Liverpool. More than 800 men lost their lives.

A memorial currently stands at the city's Pier Head. Around 1,600 internees of Italian, German and Austrian heritage were taken from their homes across the UK and interned when Germany and Italy joined the war against France and Britain.

On being cast as Patrick, Joseph said: "I loved every minute. To be a part of something so meaningful, is a privilege. I studied history at A Level and have a passion for dramas with an historical context."

"This film was a real eye-opener as it must have been a horrendous ordeal for all those families whose fathers were interned and never returned. The most challenging aspect was truly understanding what those families went through and being able to convey the emotional complexities through my performance. I hope I did the character justice."

Joseph has also featured in numerous commercials, most notably as a footballer alongside Ronaldo for NIKE and portrayed theatre roles with the Liverpool's Royal Court, The Liverpool Everyman and The Birmingham Crescent.

Trust to raise £300,000 for University research

THE Parbold-based Natalie Kate Moss Trust has committed to raising £300,000 for the University of Manchester to fund further research into brain haemorrhage.

The charity was set up in 2012 following the sudden death of 26-year-old University of Manchester alumni, Natalie Moss, from a brain haemorrhage.

Over the last ten years, the charity has funded many scholarships for students attending the university who have suffered a brain injury and has made a number of smaller donations to support research activities.

This latest donation is a significant commitment from the charity and will fund the salary and running costs of a post PhD research fellow for three and a half years, within the stroke research team at the recently opened Geoffrey Jefferson Brain Research Centre.

Haemorrhagic stroke – otherwise known as brain haemorrhage – is a sub-type of stroke. Around half of all patients who experience this type of stroke will die, and this death rate has changed very little in the past 30 years. This is in stark contrast to other diseases that have seen death rates reduce substantially over that time.

There is currently no successful treatment for haemorrhagic stroke – making this is a key area of research focus for the Manchester Stroke Group. The university's strengths in Neuroscience research and links with the UK's largest clinical stroke centre make Manchester particularly well-placed to lead the search for better treatments.

Natalie's sister and co-founder of the Natalie Kate Moss Trust, Fiona Moss, recently shared her sister's story as part of the University of Manchester's own stroke research appeal, helping it to raise more than £100,000 to fund a three-and-a-half-year PhD student who will work alongside the new research fellow. Together, the new researchers will increase capacity in the Manchester stroke team and support the search for life-saving new treatments.

Professor Stuart Allan, from the University of Manchester, said: "We are incredibly grateful for this fantastic commitment from the Natalie Kate Moss Trust and I am so proud to lead the team of researchers who are currently undertaking ground-breaking work in stroke."

"This commitment to £300,000 funding will enable us to attract and support a very talented young scientist and to fund their work over the next three and a half years, helping them to launch their research career as well as build capacity in our expanding haemorrhagic research team."

Fiona Moss, co-founder and trustee of the Natalie Kate Moss Trust, said: "We are really excited and honoured to be able to make this commitment to Professor Allan and his team at the University of Manchester. After working with them for almost ten years now, it is incredible to see how far they have come and we are really excited that this funding pledge will enable the team to do so much more work in to the causes and treatment of brain haemorrhage.

"As a family, we have experienced the heartbreak of losing a young daughter and sister to a sudden brain haemorrhage and we feel proud to be able to make this commitment to them in Natalie's memory."

SKELMERSDALE-BASED CRP Subsea (formerly Trelleborg Offshore UK) has been awarded two major contracts.

The company, which makes 'solutions for the harshest and most demanding offshore environments' has been commissioned by Ørsted to provide 223 'NjordGuard' cable protection systems for offshore windfarms in the German North Sea (like the one shown, right) at their manufacturing facility in Skelmersdale, which would be installed in 2024.

Youngsters to be 'transported into a world of science...'

Brian Cox to make virtual appearance at region's first Science Summer School to be held at West Lancs College

PHYSICIST and well known TV personality, Professor Brian Cox will make a 'virtual appearance' at West Lancashire College to host the first Science Summer School to take place in the North West - and share his vision that "Britain is the best place to do science."

Science Summer School is a national initiative co-founded by Professor Cox and Lord Andrew Mawson, with the aim of inspiring young people to pursue careers in Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Maths (STEAM) and become the next generation of Britain's scientists and engineers.

The Skelmersdale Science Summer School has been organised in partnership with Well Skelmersdale, Well North Enterprises, West Lancashire Partnership, Royal Commission for the Exhibition of 1851, West Lancashire College, and a group of West Lancashire High Schools.

The event on Tuesday, July 6 will have both virtual and live elements.

It is sponsored and supported by a range of local, regional, and national employers including Istock Plc, Future-U, Virgin Care, Peel Ports Group, Epic Games, NSG, Everton, CRP Subsea, Edge Hill University and Tate Liverpool.

Denise Williamson, principal, West Lancashire College said: "We are delighted to host the first Science Summer School in the North West and we look forward to working with our employer partners to promote the fabulous STEAM opportunities that we have in our region."

Lord Mawson, executive chair, Well North Enterprises commented: "Just as science has enabled us to reach Mars and start to explore the surface, we begin a journey here on Earth led by Professor Brian Cox and joined by our many forward-thinking partners to make Skelmersdale a place where the extraordinary can happen through science and engineering."

"We welcome aboard all our young participants and their teachers for the journey of a lifetime."

Jackie Moran, director of Integration and Transformation at NHS West

Professor Brian Cox CBE

Lancashire CCG, said: "We are thrilled to be able to work together with local partners to bring one of the most well-known and respected scientists in the country to Skelmersdale in a virtual capacity."

"This event will be a catalyst for the young people of Skelmersdale and West Lancashire to explore a career in science and engineering."

On the day, school pupils from across West Lancashire will be transported into a world of Science. They will attend "inspirational" talks, including keynote presentations with Professor Cox and other guest speakers, and take part in science and engineering activities all aimed at exciting their interest in STEAM careers.

The day will culminate in a virtual evening reception, when employers from across the globe will come together online to hear Professor Cox and guests speak about how to help create a lasting legacy of excellence in STEAM.

It is hoped the event will inspire future generations and put Skelmersdale on the map to be the "best place for science and engineering in the world!"

Sponsoring opportunities at sanctuary

WOODLANDS Animal Sanctuary, in Holmeswood, is offering people the chance to sponsor one of their 'animal families'.

People's sponsorship guarantees some of the funding needed to maintain care and to keep up with the daily demands on services.

When residents sponsor an animal, Woodlands sends them regular updated letters on their sponsored animal, and photographs, so they can really appreciate what they have been getting up to. Also, a certificate of sponsorship the rescue centre's seasonal newsletter.

Sponsorship includes 'well-travelled goats' and the centre's large hedgehog family.

All hedgehogs, once healthy enough, are always released and so sponsoring the hedgehog family, does mean you are not sponsoring one single hog, but all the hogs who come through the doors.

A spokesperson for the centre, said: "Each hog has the potential to cost them up to £125 and so your sponsorship will directly contribute to that cost, and support the hard work they are doing to support a native endangered species."

Crime Commissioner's deputy receives MBE in Queen's Birthday Honours List

Andrew Snowden and Andy Pratt MBE

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner, Andrew Snowden, has congratulated his future deputy, who has been recognised with an MBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours List.

Andy Pratt MBE, who was last month nominated as the Commissioner's choice for deputy to help him lead the fight against crime in Lancashire, has been honoured for his charitable and community work, particularly during the last 16 months throughout the Covid-19 pandemic.

Mr Pratt will take up office in the summer, following a confirmation hearing at the Police and Crime Panel.

Andy said: "This award recognises the important role of volunteers during what has been a really challenging time."

Concern at plight of area's asylum seekers

CONCERNS have been raised by MP Rosie Cooper with the Home Secretary Priti Patel about the situation many asylum seekers in West Lancashire are now facing due to a change in the government's debit card provider.

Asylum seekers awaiting a decision on their application for leave to remain are held in a 'limbo situation' where they can't work in the UK, but often they can neither afford to travel to another country or even back home.

The Government provides weekly cash support of £39.63 through an allowance loaded onto a debit card, known as the ASPEN card. This money can then be spent on the card or withdrawn from a cash machine.

Ms Cooper has commented since the government changed provider from Sodexo to Prepaid Financial Services Ltd, many issues have been reported, where the old card has been deactivated but the new card has either not arrived or is not working correctly. She added this leaves many in a state of absolute poverty and destitution.

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said: "I have written to the Home Secretary asking her to take immediate action to ensure thousands across the country and up to a hundred asylum seekers here in West Lancashire are not punished due to administrative failings of the Home Office and their contracted financial services companies.

"These people are already waiting for the Home Office to reach a decision on their application to stay in the UK – some waiting up to two years – and during that time they are barred from working despite staffing shortages across many industries, are provided with a paltry £39 a week to live off and now they are being given nothing!"

Abbie is club's first female captain in 130 years!

A BIT of history was made on Sunday, June 20 at Skelmersdale Cricket Club.

Their Sunday development team won a friendly game against Hightown St Mary's by 48 runs and 18-year-old Abbie Wright was captain of the team making it the first time in Skelmersdale Cricket Club's 130 years history that a women has captained one of the senior teams.

Abbie (shown in action, above) who opens the bowling in Skelmersdale Saturday 2nd team, also plays for Lancashire Women's under 18 team.

House-hunters look to move to the countryside

INCREASING number of house-hunters are looking to escape to the countryside following the past year's lockdowns, according to one Lancashire housebuilder.

Jones Homes staff say that they have experienced high levels of interest from buyers seeking to buy at their Peter's Park development in Mawdesley.

Carol Barlow, sales director, said: "We've seen a growing interest from buyers wanting to enjoy the benefits of having green open space on their doorstep. It's clear that the past year has made people reconsider what they want from their home, with many buyers now prioritising a property that has space for the whole family to relax at home, within a rural location that offers ample outdoor space too."

Celine and Steven Hourihan, both 37 and their sons, Noah, six and Theo, three, moved to a Jones Homes' Hesketh Reach development in Rufford.

Celine said: "If it wasn't for lockdown, we probably wouldn't have moved, as Rufford is quite far from where Steven and I work. But as we're both working from home now and in the future – at least for a couple of days a week – there was nothing stopping us!

"We knew the area well as we used to come to Rufford on our family walks, and we've always been keen to live somewhere closer to the countryside."

"So, we knew this development and house type would suit our lifestyle perfectly."

Hayley is through to the next stage of Little Miss British Isles beauty contest

A NINE-YEAR-OLD from Brookfield Park Primary School in Skelmersdale has been picked from hundreds to be one of the representatives for West Lancashire at the Little Miss British Isles beauty contest.

Hayley Fletcher is now through to the final, which will be held at Chester racecourse on September 5.

Her mum, Victoria Fletcher said: "Hayley is doing this all while her dad is deployed overseas with the Royal Air Force.

"He will hopefully arrive home the day before her final."

"Her family are very proud that at nine-years-old, she has the courage to enter such a contest and get this far already."

Right: Hayley Fletcher will represent West Lancashire in the contest

Praise for work of St John volunteers

As St John Ambulance approaches delivery of an extraordinary one million volunteer hours given in support of the COVID-19 response and the vaccination programme, our charity's volunteers continue to demonstrate their value to local communities throughout the country.

I would like to pass on my sincere personal thanks through your paper to all of our volunteers and staff, particularly as we have just held St John's Day (June 24), a focal point for the St John family year, when this year we celebrate the work of our charity over the past year of the pandemic, and plan our support to communities who need our help in the future.

Many buildings and local landmarks around the country were lit up in green on that evening to celebrate the tireless work of St John volunteers and staff. Everyone at St John is immensely grateful to the owners and custodians of those buildings for helping us to make the day a special one.

Meanwhile, we remind everyone of St John Ambulance's work through our nationwide Ask Me campaign (www.sja.org.uk/AskMe) which launched earlier this month. I am sure that our powerful combination of billboard posters and advertisements will keep our volunteers in the forefront of everyone's minds and encourage your readers to get involved with St John, or to find out more about our charity's work in their local area.

We are not quite at Beirut just yet!

Well I see the "Yob Gang" made it onto the front page of the Champion!

Moral panic is being shown by Aughton's scared residents due to a high volume of police presence over a period of time, which is also highlighted again and again on their Facebook page adding to the drama.

In response to the scared villagers, I'd just like to say you are living in one of the safest towns in Lancashire, we are not quite at Beirut just yet!

Maybe with it being a small village the youth can be an easy target to displace anger onto, just a thought.

After World War II the youth found themselves oppressed and with strict disciplines and a string of sub-cultures emerged as a way of rebellion. We have had teddy boys, mods and rockers, and skinheads.

We use these groups as a scape-goats, just like the government suggesting the youth are to blame for the coronavirus spikes last year. I don't see ongoing posts about the gun crime, vehicle theft, fraud and drugs raids over the past few years in Aughton?

Reading the Champion, I see that we require a more coordinated and joined up response with Merseyrail and the British Transport Police to prevent the arrivals of yobs into our village, this is suggesting that the youths are not local?

So, if they are not local children causing this so-called chaos then why is the parish council reluctant to spend any hard-earned council taxpayer's money on any youth provision until criminal damage is terminated? Surely this is some kind of joke punishing local children - this seems like a poor excuse to not to spend money, in my opinion.

Youth gatherings in Aughton have happened for years and all congregating on the same parks. At the end of the day local children should be able to gather on children's parks, their grandparents would have been doing the same many years ago, believe me it happened.

When I found out police are moving children on from children's parks it does make me question the policing.

Yes teenagers will experiment with alcohol and maybe drugs. 72% of teenagers before the age of 16 have tried alcohol.

If we banish these from well lit up areas, they will stay from the beaten path. What happens if that is your son, daughter, grandson or granddaughter who needed help and the police or an ambulance couldn't get to them?

Aughton resident,
Name supplied

Charge drivers who park, or block, the pavements

Noticing the number of cars which park on, or block pavements, if the Council were to charge the drivers, say £100 daily, we could achieve the following:

One: reduce the blocking and, two: give the Council extra funding.

Extra monies could then be used to improve road surfaces and fill in potholes or hazardous drain covers - even (happy thought) reduce Council Tax!!

Local resident, Aughton
(Name, address supplied)

Entirely satisfied with my GP

Like your correspondent 'Satisfied Patient' of Skelmersdale, my experience with our local GP practice was entirely satisfactory.

Unlike that lady I am generally healthy, although I am over 80 and my problem was minor I received prompt attention.

I rang the surgery in the morning, was told by the receptionist that a GP would ring me about noon, which she did and, following a telephone discussion she asked me if I could come in that afternoon, which I did, and a solution was found.

'Very Satisfied Patient'
Parbold

No concerns over not wearing masks

I would like to reassure 'Chris' Crosby (Champion Letters) that he should have no concerns about travellers on Merseyrail who do not wear masks.

Multiple scientific tests have shown that viruses are much too small to be stopped by masks.

Asthmatic sufferers like myself struggle to breathe with them.

Also, now that we have a substantial database from the extensive wearing of masks, it is becoming clear, in my opinion, that they could have health consequences.

It is clearly important to use them as little as possible so let us hope that the Government soon removes the need to wear them altogether.

NURSERY & RECEPTION
PLACES AVAILABLE

Whether your child attends a nursery, school or any other early years provider is, of course, your decision but there is no doubt that by working closely with the government most, if not all, of these providers now offer a close as possible safe environment for you to send your children to.

Scientific evidence (Source GOV UK) shows that coronavirus presents a much lower risk to children than adults, there will of course still be risks, but early education providers have put in place a range of protective measures to help reduce the risks. They will do their own health and safety risks, understand that some children may experience anxiety and have measures in place to help, and of course will be in regular contact with their local health protection teams if there is a local outbreak. For any extra curricular activities such as breakfast clubs and after-school activities etc, the early education providers will have adapted to ensure protective measures and you can always contact them direct to see what they are doing differently and to find out more information on what changes they have made.

This news will hopefully encourage you to take up a place for your child as attending childcare can help provide a routine as young children develop their social skills. It will also improve their educational progress and well being. This feature aims to highlight and remind parents as to the benefits of placing your child in an early years setting.

What type of services are available?

After school and breakfast clubs

These can be provided by schools or private nurseries and provide care for your child before or after school, or both. Learning is structured and children are always provided with healthy snacks or meals.

Playgroups

Playgroups offer care for your child several times a week usually, for a morning or an afternoon, and work in conjunction with the Early Years Foundation Stage. They can help your child to interact and start learning at an age where they are too young to go to school.

Private day nurseries

These are open from Monday to Friday and can look after your child between the hours of 7.30am – 6.00pm.

They are available for children aged 3 months to five years of age and although they are private, there are several Government schemes to help you meet the cost if you feel you are struggling. All are means tested and funding could be one call away. These nurseries are OFSTED inspected and follow the Government's Early Years Foundation Stage structure of learning.

Holiday Play schemes

Children have a lot more time off school than parents have off work and so for those times holiday play schemes can come in very handy.

They offer childcare only in school holidays and can help the child develop and learn while making sure they are safe and well cared for.

Benefits for your child ...

High quality childcare and early education give your child a head start in primary school, as research shows that it improves their educational, emotional and social development.

Children with experience of high quality childcare and early education do better in Key Stage 1 and Mathematics at age 7.

Children who attend a good quality setting are more likely to be more independent, better able to concentrate and more sociable at the start of primary school. The benefits of part-time attendance are those of full-time attendance.

DID YOU KNOW?

You can read your Champion online every week!

Which childcare is best for you?

With so many parents both working full time these days the issue of childcare is a major one

There are several options available but choosing the right one for your family can sometimes be a difficult task. Before you make a decision...

- Give yourself plenty of time to choose. Holiday play schemes and other seasonal childcare service can booked up well in advance.
- Make appointments to visit two or three providers to compare what's on offer. This will allow you to look at the services available and chat to the staff.
- Always consider your child in your decision, even if they are far too young to make a choice themselves. Where do you think they would prefer?
- Ask other parents for their suggestions and recommendations.
- Check opening times, holiday dates and, most importantly, costs.

Outdoor learning environments to be proud of

I can't believe how well my son speaks now. I was worried about his vocabulary but after joining the nursery he chats and chats all day.

The staff are so easy to talk to. They are very approachable. I can talk to them about any worry I have. Nothing is too much trouble.

My daughter loves spending time in the nursery. She looks forward to going every day. She has made so many good friends.

- How does the provider report safety incidents to parents?
- Do the carers know first aid?
- What is the staff's view on discipline?
- What activities are on offer?
- What happens if you are late picking up your child?
- What food is provided and is it healthy?
- Who can you talk to about your child's progress?
- What happens if your child becomes ill?

LANCASHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL (U575 WOODROW, SKELMERSDALE AND U574 WHITESTOCK, SKELMERSDALE, WEST LANCASHIRE BOROUGH) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF THROUGH TRAFFIC) ORDER 2021

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Lancashire County Council have made an Order under Section 14(1) (a) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, as amended, the effect of which will be to temporarily prohibit traffic on the roads set out in this notice.

1. No person shall cause any motor vehicle to proceed over the following lengths of highway in the Borough of West Lancashire:-
i. U575 Woodrow, Skelmersdale from U5274 High Street, Skelmersdale for a distance of 15m in a Southerly direction.
ii. U574 Whitestock, Skelmersdale from U5274 High Street, Skelmersdale for a distance of 15m in a Southerly direction.
2. Nothing in this order shall apply to persons engaged in the carrying out of the works.
3. The prohibition will be operative from 0930 hours until 1530 hours on Wednesday 14th July 2021 or until completion of the works within this period. Access for residents shall be maintained for the duration of the closures.
4. An alternative route for vehicular traffic affected by the closures is not possible owing to both U575 Woodrow, Skelmersdale and U574 Whitestock being no through roads.

The temporary prohibition is necessary to allow the desilting of joint boxes and ducts to be carried out by Sunbelt Rentals UK on behalf of BT.

Authority given for this Order to be made:

Peter Bell, Regulation and Enforcement Manager, Highways and Transport, 0300 123 6780 [Ref: HRIT/29892/EW]

Expect Mazda to replace the MX-5 with an all-electric model in the next few years

Logical way forward for the world's best selling sports car..?

NOT since Bob Dylan switched his instruments in the mid-Sixties has anything going electric generated as much fevered chatter – albeit in angry Facebook comments rather than column inches – but the Mazda MX-5 is going zero emissions.

Not today, not tomorrow, but when the fifth generation rocks up it'll almost certainly omit a fizzing twin cam engine for the first time. Of course it is. Not because Mazda itself dropped some fairly hefty hints just a few weeks ago, committing to making at least a quarter of its offerings completely electric and everything else in some sort of hybrid form, but because it's the logical way forward for the world's best-selling sports car. I know, because the man who designed the original told me.

A couple of years ago I got the chance to interview Tsutomu 'Tom' Matano, who sculpted the shape of the very first MX-5, which almost overnight repopularised small two-seater roadsters when it was launched in 1989. He grew up idolising small, brilliantly packaged British cars – not just the Lotus Elan, whose influence on Mazda's own two-seater is well documented, but cars like the Austin-Healey Sprite and the original Mini, and as a result one of his obsessions is making things as light and perfectly packaged as possible.

I always thought the pop-up headlights on the first MX-5 was one of its best features, but he didn't want them because the motors added weight.

For Tom, it's all about better weight distribution, because you can spread all those electric batteries around at the bottom of the car for a lower centre of gravity.

It's about being quicker off the line, because in an electric vehicle you have all the torque available in an instant, which is why there are so many clips on YouTube of Teslas embarrassing 911 Turbos in quarter-mile drag races.

Best of all, it's about mechanical simplicity, because an electric motor has only one moving part and no clutches or gearboxes to worry about.

The tradeoff could actually make the MX-5 more practical, too; if it retains the same basic proportions as its predecessors and Mazda's clever with the packaging, the next MX-5's lack of an engine could actually give you a Porsche Boxster-esque proposition of having two boots to chuck your golf clubs in.

In fact, I think the only real challenge is replicating the fun of the current MX-5's flick-of-the-wrist gearchange, which is probably the most entertaining way of flicking between cogs on any mass-market car, as electric cars don't need manual gearboxes. Then again (and whisper it quietly) my own MX-5's an automatic and I think it's 99 per cent as entertaining as the manual that went before, but far, far nicer to live with when you aren't on a B-road somewhere in North Wales.

I don't know when the next MX-5 is going to arrive, but I reckon it'll have no trouble attracting keen drivers. The big question is whether a zero emissions sports car is going to be more entertaining than the new Lotus Emira, which it's believed will be Norfolk's final internal combustion model when it's unveiled later this summer.

We don't know the answer yet, but it's going to be a blast finding out.
